Twenty-six Bodies Recovered and Many More Are Believed Concealed in Debris
Piled High in Valley.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
Erie, Pa., Aug. 5.—With the recovery today of two more bodies, the list of dead as the result of the flood Tuesday night was brought to 26. Because of the great mass of debris which stretched for two miles along the Mill creek valley, the search for bodies is progressing slowly. Fifteen persons are missing and Coroner Hanley said tonight he thought the death toll might reach seventy-five.

Figures compiled late today showed that the total damage in the city and county would amount to between six and seven million dollars. Two millions, it was declared, would not replace the crops destroyed in Erie county.

Two representatives of the state department of health arrived today to assist the local health authorities in handling the sanitary work.

Scores of persons have been vaccinated for typhoid and warnings on sanitation have been issued by the health authorities.

A committee of citizens met with Mayor Sterns at the city hall this afternoon and took charge of the relief work. Preparations are being made to furnish clothing to the flood-sufferers tomorrow. Former Postmaster Sobel has been chosen chairman of a committee that will pass upon the individual losses and those who have lost their homes will be given a fresh start in life.

The city council at a meeting this afternoon decided to forbid hereafter the rebuilding of frame buildings in the flood zone.

Local citizens are contributing liberally to the relief fund started by Mayor Sterns.

The fund has already reached $12,000.

Every effort is being made to prevent pestilence. In the ruins are many bodies of animals and the warmer weather has already caused these to start to decay.

A company of state police arrived here tonight from Butler to assist in the rescue work and to patrol the flood district.

The flood was responsible for the death tonight of Louis B. Jones, 41, a prominent lawyer, who dropped dead of heart disease brought on, physicians said, by his strenuous fight in the waters of Mill creek Tuesday night to rescue his wife and two children.

UNITED STATES POWERLESS TO SECURE RELIEF

Foreign Censorships Are in Violation of No Treaty and Protests for Their Mitigation Futile.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
Washington, Aug. 5.—State department officials virtually have decided they are powerless to secure relief from the rigid censorship to which American mail and cable messages passing through the belligerent countries of Europe are subjected. American citizens and business firms at home and abroad have filed many complaints, but investigation has convinced the department that no treaties can be invoked in protests.

Appeals from business houses which declared impairment of the cable service through censorship had been a serious embarrassment financially, moving the department to begin informal negotiations for mitigation early in the war. Secretary Lansing said today that while these efforts were being continued, virtually nothing had come of them.

Business men who have gone abroad to straighten out commercial affairs are among those who have complained against censorship of mail passing through England on the way from one neutral country to another.

Under postal conventions between the United States and England the latter has agreed to handle in transit, without molestation closed pouch mail or mail destined to other countries via England. State department officials have about reached the conclusion that these conventions have not been strictly observed, and that the postal authorities of the respective countries and not the state department and foreign offices.

RIGID CENSORSHIP OVER CABLE MESSAGES

New York, Aug. 5.—Announcement was made by the cable companies today that the British government had issued a renewed notice declaring that cablegrams to or through Great Britain must be in plain language in authorized code. The notice calls attention to the irregular joining of words and states that this cannot be considered plain language. Messages with such irregular compounds, it is stated, are liable to detention by the censor.

EL PASO MAN KNOCKS
TEXAS BUILDING AT THE SAN FRANCISCO FAIR

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)
Santa Fe, Aug. 5.—"The crudity and lack of interest in the Texas building at the San Francisco exposition is a disgrace to our state," declared A. E. Howlands, of El Paso. "The Texas society of San Francisco gave us a watermelon party at the Texas building and we found that practically the building was nothing but a mere shell. The furniture and about twenty jars of fruit which I observed stuck away in a corner, the building is bare and empty." How different the New Mexico building at San Diego, he observed and admired by hundreds of thousands all parts of the world.

Mimes Jacobs, the "richest new boy" in the world, visited the New Mexico building at San Diego with his family. He resided from Des Moines, Ia., where he managed his fortune selling newspapers and has property interests valued at $200,000, all earned by selling newspapers for the last thirty-two years. He is only 40 years old and, although he has a fine home and a handsome income, he still puts in sixteen hours a day on his newspaper route and is taking his first vacation in twenty years.

GREATER BURDENS MUST YET COME TO THE FRENCH

Minister of Finance Explains
Enormous Outlays for Arms, Ammunition and Men, and Says End Is Far Off.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
Paris, Aug. 5 (7:23 p. m.)—In the course of a discussion in the French senate today on the bill to raise the limit of national defense issues which was passed in the chamber of deputies July 29, Alexandre Ribot, the minister of finance, took occasion to review the financial situation.

"On July 31," he said, "there were 6,558,000,000 francs ($1,391,600,000) of defense issues in circulation. In June alone $2,000,000,000 francs ($400,000,000) were placed in the short term bonds and $2,200,000,000 francs ($440,000,000) in the long term obligations.

"Our financial burdens are constantly growing. Arms and ammunition cost a great deal. We probably shall have recourse to a long term loan whereby we can consolidate all our short term treasury issues. We still have to make a great military and financial effort to reach a victorious conclusion of the war.

"The public brings in its gold without pressure. It is conscious of the situation and feels that today no man can save himself by thinking solely of himself. It can only be done by the citizens giving the country their lives if necessary and their goods in this world in any case.

"We must conceal nothing from a country. It is worthy to hear a thing. Only in disseminating a thing can we fittingly respond to the country's fine confidence."

The bill including the limit of national defense issues was passed.

Robert H. Lowe, who recently lectured in Santa Fe, writes on "Ceremonialism in America," while other articles are entitled:

"Primitive American History," "The Present Condition of Our Knowledge of the North American Languages," "Mythology and Folk Tales of the North American Indians," and "Social Organization of the North American Indians." The book of 474 pages, is beautifully printed on heavy paper and is handsomely bound, forming an important addition to the museum library. Among those who registered at the museum were: E. L. ## The Pinckneys—"Fathers of the Republic"

PERHAPS South Carolina's best gift to this Free Republic was the splendid services of her two great sons—Charles Cotesworth Pinckney and Charles Pinckney. It can truthfully be said of the Pinckneys that their love of honor was greater than their love of power, and deeper than their love of self. One played an important part in the "Louisiana Purchase"—the other, while an envoy to France, was told that the use of money would avert war, and to this replied: "Millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute." Both devoted their eminent abilities toward framing our National Law, The Constitution of the United States, as it stands to-day, was built upon the framework of a plan first proposed by Charles Pinckney. It was he who demanded that it contain freedom of religion, freedom of the press, habeas corpus and trial by jury. In political faith only did these two great men differ. Charles Pinckney was an ardent Democrat, and Charles C. Pinckney a loyal Federalist, and was twice a candidate for President. It is easy to imagine the horror that these two great lovers of Personal Liberty would have expressed if shown the proposed Prohibition Laws of to-day. It is needless to say that if alive they would VOTE NO to such tyrannous encroachments upon the NATURAL RIGHTS OF MAN. The Pinckneys both believed in the moderate use of light wines and barley brews. They also believed in legislation which encouraged the Brewing Industry because they knew that honest Barley Beer makes for true temperance. For 18 years Anheuser-Busch have been brewers of honest Barley-Malt and Sazer Hop beers—the kind the Pinckneys knew to be good for mankind. Today their great brand—BUDWEISER—because of its quality, purity, mildness and exquisite flavor, exceeds the sale of any other beer by millions of bottles; 7500 people are daily required to keep pace with the public demand for BUDWEISER.

Visitors to St. Louis are courteously invited to inspect our plant—covers 142 acres.
